Upskill new and existing teachers to deliver GCSE and Functional Skills maths effectively.

Despite the sector’s best efforts, recruiting suitably qualified English and maths teachers continues to be a huge challenge – so why not develop your own? This two-day course offers the complete introduction to teaching maths, both GCSE and functional skills, for those who are new to teaching the qualification, as well as those who aspire to.

FIND OUT MORE
For hosting enquiries, call our delivery partner Creative Education on 020 8253 8238.
Course outcomes

- Be more confident delivering GCSE and functional skills maths
- Understand the structure of the qualification and how it is assessed
- Explore up-to-date thinking on curriculum, schemes of work and planning
- Develop effective teaching strategies for success at this level, including approaches for motivating learners
- Identify how a learner is performing and deliver effective feedback
- Boost your personal maths skills

Target audience

This course will most benefit those who are new to or aspiring to teach GCSE and functional skills maths, or have taught it for three years or less. It is suitable for providers from across the breadth of the sector, including: FE Colleges, Independent Training Providers, Adult and Community Learning, the 3rd sector, offender learning and specialist colleges.

Delegates must have a maths qualification at level 2 or higher.

Course structure

Above everything, the course aims to develop confidence in teaching GCSE and functional skills maths. The course is structured around four key themes, exploring each of them in greater depth as the course progresses: curriculum, teaching strategies, assessment and personal maths skills.

This is a two-day course with an opportunity in between the two sessions to practise some of the ideas explored and develop your personal maths skills.

HOST AN EVENT
Hosting is great value and allows you to train 12 or more delegates for the single price of £1,100.

To find out more about hosting, go to creativeeducation.co.uk/blog/etf and complete the form or call 020 8253 8238.

ATTEND AN EXTERNAL EVENT
If you don’t have enough delegates to host your own event you can still book on at the ETF-subsidised price of £175.

Visit booking.etfoundation.co.uk/course/details/145 to book your place.